

ESTICT @ Bath

Wednesday 17 November 2010

Event Programme

6 West, University of Bath

0930 Registration & Coffee

1000 Introductions

Nitin Parmar, Learning Technologist, Learning & Teaching Enhancement Office
University of Bath [ESTICT SIG Steering Group Member]

1005 Welcome

James Macdonald, Head of Student Learning Experience & Quality, Learning & Teaching Enhancement Office University of Bath

1010 Virtual Keynote

Motivating Engagement and Learning Using Classroom Response Systems
Dr Derek Bruff, Assistant Director at the Vanderbilt University Center for Teaching

1100 Coffee

1115 Short Presentations

The search for active learning: Lessons from a Happy Accident
Hedley Bashforth, Department of Social Policy & Sociology, University of Bath

Engineering adventures through Audience Response Systems
Dr Andrew Dent, Department of Mechanical Engineering, University of Bath

Supporting student learning using Panopto
Sacha Goodwin, Audio Visual, University of Bath

Mobile learning: why, what, where and how?
Dr Sian Lindsay, Learning Development Centre, City University London

1230 Lunch & Networking

1330 Virtual Keynote Q&A

1400 Experimentation Workshop with Classroom Technologies

1515 Coffee

1530 Experimentation Workshop Feedback

1550 Final Thoughts

1600 Close

Event Resources

Programme, presentation slides and captures <http://go.bath.ac.uk/estictbath>

Twitter and blogging hashtag #estict

ESTICT @ Bath is being sponsored by Reivo Ltd., the exclusive distributors of TurningPoint in the UK.

For more information on TurningPoint products, speak to Paul Jenner over the course of today. Alternatively, give him a call on 07590 962 627 or send an email to paulj@reivo.co.uk

